

Price filter only applied to page 1 of products

An issue with price filtering was recently identified, wherein only the first page of products would have the correct price range applied to them. Once the user clicked 'Show More Products', the price filtering would no longer be applied and all products would return. This has now been fixed and price filtering behaves correctly.